Our new art trailer inspiration board!

This trailer will be a dream maker! We love it and so do our students!

It's simple, you just take something and do something to it, and then do something else to it. Keep doing this and pretty soon you've got something. — Jasper Johns icreate! has been up and running since 2000!

2013

We started the after school classes with the same understanding of students that we have today, "they want more art". We also understand that students want the ability to take their ideas and inspirations from an exploration stage to a fine crafted focused finished stage. We have a great time, music, smaller group, conversation and creativity!

About our classes

Our classes are small and offer students the ability to extend their day of concentration and curiosity. Each class is a combination of students from Horace Mann and Georgetown Day School. Students have popped in for a session from other schools and this year a former student would like to continue!

With the small group that often, if not always continues, we become more in touch with their thinking, progress and what they want to know more about. The ages range from 1st to 4th grade. We have had K, but day is long for them.

Dates and Times

The dates of our schools match up pretty well, except for the spring breaks. We always honor and adjust any days missed from holiday or absence by making up or reducing cost.

The times are selected to allow a break for the student to get outside and we need time to switch gears, commute and set up the studio!

Because of the studio location, please make arrangements to arrive at 3:45. If you take a walk to get hot chocolate, drop off the back pack! Door will be open with inclimate weather.

In witnessing these students over the years, we have loved the conversation of students. At first its mostly about "how does your school work, how much homework do you have..." and then the conversation moves to interaction. The classmates across schools and grade levels become a creative community that explores materials, invents, inspires and support each other-priceless!
